

Men's Conference 2010

Saturday, March 27th

Matt Geiger & Jason Maas

Warrior Saints: Cultivating Christ-Like Compassion

Optional Pre-Workshop Assignment

Men, what do you think of when you hear about “compassion”? Is it a a feminine quality? Or something you exercise on abandoned pets? At best we tend to see it as a quality to give money to the devastated areas of the world. Yet, it is far more. The first time God gives a detailed description of Himself in the Bible He says, “The LORD, The LORD, the compassionate and gracious God...”

Men, if this is one of the primary characteristics of God, is it not fitting for us to properly understand it so we can be imitators of God? Jesus Christ is the Great Savior and Warrior who was willing to fight and die for the objects of His compassion. Will you follow him as a man called to be a savior-warrior also?

Join us to explore and understand what Jesus-like compassion is. As we define it, we will discuss practical ways to image compassion wherever the Lord has you.

Below are two questions to consider in preparation for the workshop. Come prepared to share and brainstorm with us!

I. How would you define compassion?

II. Who have you seen practice compassion well and how did they do it?